THE RETURNING OHIO SOLDIERS .- Acting Mayor Jones on Saturday received information of the departure from Raleigh, for Camp Cleveland, of the 100th, 104th and 107th Ohio Regiments, and the 19th Ohio Battery. It is probable all will arrive here during the present week.

Boy DROWNED .- We learn that a boy named Peter Dunn, aged ten years, whose parents reside on Hill street, was yesterday afternoon drowned in the canal Basin. Our informant states that the father of the boy took him and his brother down to the canal, as he said, to learn them to swim, and threw Peter in. The little fellow sank and did not rise again. His body was recovered after having been in the water about an hour, and conveyed to his parents' house. The fasher is said to be frantic in consequence of the sad result of his supremely feelish, if not criminal conduct.

MECHANICS AND WORKING MEN OF CLEVE-LAND -Let the coming Fourth of July celebration be the grandest affair our city has ever witnessed. Show your patriotism and appreciation of the occasion by fitting up wagons and platforms representing every branch of mechanic arts. Let carpenters, masons, blacksmiths, coopers, shipwrights, machinists of every description be represented. Cleveland may well be proud of her mechanics-of their energy, industry and skill. And this will be the occasion of all others to show their patriotism. STHARDS MINE MARKET

On Saturday morning last, about eight o'clock, a new well was struck, situated a few rods from the great United States well, on Pithole. The stream appeared to be nearly, if not quite as large as that of the United States well itself, which is at present flowing about a thousand barrels per

The Moorehead well, on the Boston Company's property, is estimated as "flowing about eight hundred barrels per day. The young man, Moorehead, from whom the well derives its name, was, a little over a year ago, working as a journeyman blacksmith in Franklin. From his hard-earned savings of several years toil at the anvil and bellows, he purchased a farm on Pithole, paying therefor $4,000 he sold it a short time after for $5,000, retaining onefifteenth interest in the property. His fifteenth his already yielded him an 'immense fortune.

Pithole is now the metropolis of the great Oil Region, yielding at present over twenty-five hundred barrels per day, and bids fair to soon excel the whole of Oil Creek, Oil is selling on Pithole to-day at from $4 990 to $4.50, on the Creek from $5 to $6. Pithole oil on the average is about five degrees gravity lighter that that procured on the Creek.

REVIVAL OF THE "ROUND TABLE." -- We have received from Henry E. Sweetser, Esq., editor and publisher of the " Round Table," a prospectus announcing its revival, agreeable to the promise made to the public at the time of its suspension in July, 1864s when its conductors stated that "in the event of the return of the happy days of peace and prosperity, they stood ready to resume the publication of the paper." The success of the "Round Table" during its first term of publication gives reason to celleve that it will receive a hearty support | stracks & Annersons, Gleveland, Ago now from that portion of the reading public | for Morthern Oblo. who appreciate a first-class literary journal, and it will be the effort of its publisher to make it this in every respect. It is published weekly at $5 a year, and will be
